Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer image file is classified as objectionable because it exploits a young person's nudity in a manner that makes the availability of the publication likely to be injurious to the public good.

The image is of a young adolescent boy posing naked for the viewer's close inspection. The overall effect is sexual in nature, therefore the publication exploits the nudity of a young person in a salacious manner that is clearly intended for electronic distribution for sexual purposes.

The classification of this publication interferes with freedom of expression, as set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However this is a reasonable limitation on freedom of expression that reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect young persons from exploitation.
